PROCEEDINGS.

The twenty-third annual meeting the Union was called to order by the President and devotional exercises were conducted by Mr. Angus Cromartie.

On roll-call delegates responded from twelve Ladies' societies and nine Young People's Societies.

The greeting was charmingly made by Maggie Beatty and was responded to by Miriam MacFadgen in a most gracious manner.

Reports were read from Mrs. McClure, 1st V. P.; from Miss Parsley, 2nd V. P.; from the Treasurer, and from the President. These were adopted.

None of the County Vice-Presidents reported except Mrs. G. V. Clark, of Bladen, she having visited all the societies and organized two. It was brought out that two new societies were organized during the year, and three were reorganized.

No report from Agent of Covenanters.

The report for the May Johnson Loan Fund, by Mary Colvin, was adopted.

A plea for our Presbyterian School—James Sprunt—was ably made by Mr. J. E. Winecoff, He plead for the support of this school by the ladies of the Presbytery.

Prayers were offered for the recovery of Edwin McClure, for our Hospital, for the May Johnson Fund, and for our girl at Lees McRae Institute.

Thursday evening Dr. Worth gave an interesting lecture on China.

FRIDAY MORNING.

After the Praise Service, Mrs. Osborne read a report from Mrs. Stewart, Agent of the Young Peoples's work.

Reports from nineteen Young People's bands were read.

An earnest prayer was made by Mrs. Cumming for the young people of our Presbytery.

Mrs. Worth spoke on "Consecration." This talk made a deep impression on her hearers.

The Praise Service was conducted by Mary Corbett, the young people singing well.

Mrs. Johnson spoke of how thankful we were for our Kiang-Yin hospital and how honored we were in our representatives there. She spoke of the necessity of concentrating our energies and contributions upon the work already undertaken by our Union.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

A Memorial Service was conducted by Mrs. W. M. Cumming, after which reports were read from twenty-four Ladies' Societies.

The report of the Hospital Fund, prepared by Miss Murphy, was read. Dr. Worth then told of his plans for the enlargement of the hospital and the absolute necessity of these plans being carried out immediately.

The Union decided to hold a Week of Prayer, in the Spring and in the Fall, for Home and Foreign Missions. This to be arranged for by the Executive Committee.

It was decided to have printed minutes as short as possible, and for the Union to make a special offering to the Woman's Ward of Emma Clarkson Hospital.

The Day of Prayer will be held at Black River.

After a Consecration Service, conducted by Mrs. Worth, the Union adjourned to meet at the First Church, Wilmington.

REPORT OF AGENT FOR HOSPITAL FUND.

By the time the closing session of the Chadbourn meeting was reached, your Agent was in real distress over the falling off in the Woman's Ward Fund, so her report was supplemented by a plea for a better understanding with the representatives of the Societies present. In response there was earnest enquiry and discussion and much regret expressed that the division of gifts had caused loss to both our objects. An attempt was made to impress that all important idea that we may reach and help all the benevolent causes of our church through the channels of our monthly church collections, and that our Socities can do most and best by uniting their offerings and interest in behalf of our chosen objects.

At the suggestion of our President and other members of the committee a letter was sent out soon after the June Meeting. This letter was sent by the Agents of our two objects. The needs of both were made clear and the societies were asked to increase their yearly offering to Foreign Missions, and the plea emphasized that not a penny be taken from Foreign Missions, but the Loan Fund be aided by additional gifts. There was as a result a good many offerings to the Loan Fund, and we hope that there were those who accepted the good safe rule "not divide but add," which was the pith and point of this message to the Societies.

When Dr. Worth reached home in February he told us first of more and more blessings upon the growing work of our hospital. He told us that the Woman's Ward was not only a great need, as had been reiterated, but now had become a necessity. That it was apparent to the natives that there was a disproportion in our provision—that the call for releif from suffering women was not being answered.

There is sufficient land for a good arrangement of the buildings. While the great need of another physician still stands open, the force of helpers for the Woman's Ward, is as if by a special Providence supplied—our missionary trained nurse, two native trained nurses, and a Chinese matron of excellent qualifications. Thus we see that all stands ready and waiting for the buildings.

With the steady growth of the work at Kiang-Yin, plans have necessarily enlarged; an operating room with proper apparatus and instruments must be provided. The cost of building materials and labor has increased in the Orient as well as with us. The amount needed to cover the cost of these buildings and furnishings is $6,000. This must be raised by September, 1912. But, happily, this amount may be divided so that we can grasp the figures in a way that makes the undertankig practicable. There is on hand to the credit of the Ward Fund one thousand dollars with a margin over.

When we were first told of the need of the operating room, the idea suggested itself that the doctors of Wilmington Presbytery provide this building and furnishing. (Cost $1,000.) We felt that these Christian physicians would find a great pleasurs in doing this. Three of our physicians have volunteered in the movement and sent out a letter to the others of the profession. As far as report has come back to us, the idea seems to have captured the doctors. In fact it seems to me that Presbyterian doctors are a class upon whom we may depend to do a handsome thing and take pleasure therein. This leaves $4,000 to be raised within the coming fifteen months. I believe we can do this with great blessing to ourselves.

Before we consider ways and means, let us look at what this increased work will require of us as a Union. The Executive Committee has already required repeated meetings for discussion and plans, and more and more will the committee, which is trying to lead the body of the Union in this and other endeavor, be stirred to definite and methodical work and be drawn into a more real union of prayer and service.

All existing Societies must "lengthen their cords and strengthen their stakes." New Societies and Bands must be organized. There must be drawn into line men, women, young people, children and cradle-roll members. The women and young people of our societies must actually render up time and material things—think, pray and speak out bravely in the winning of interest. Pervading all, here in our Presbytery, must be a spirit of self-denial and consecration such as we have not seen before.

And are not all these things just what we have most earnestly asked for in our public prayers, in our quiet hours of intercession, especially in definite united petitions during the year just previous to the time when this undertaking was set before us? Is there any one to doubt that this larger work which has been given into our hands is the direct answer to our prayer for a truer and purer and more abounding service for our King?

Is there not a new thrill of joy in our hearts as we perceive that the offering of our hands has been accepted as a pledge that we stand ready to be led forward?

May I suggest an apportionment of this sum of $4,000? It has been asked of the Young People to furnish the twenty-eight cots ($840.) We know of those who are already planning to make memorial and thank-offerings which added to this will amount to another thousand. I think there are twenty-five Societies in the Union not pledged to other Foreign Missionary objects (the support of the Nurse and Julia Farrior-Sanford Memorial). An apportionment of the $3,000 among these would give to each Society the raising of $120. The reports of last year showed that some of our Societies raised more than $120, so I feel constrained to ask that the five strongest Societies be responsible for 200 each. The remaining twenty-five Societies be responsible for $100 each. We may ascertain the strength of the Societies from the reports that are read today, and I insist that there be a thorough discussion of this scheme of apportionment.

I have said that I believe we can raise the $6,000 within the limited time, but we are not going to do so if we look upon it as a burden or a task. My dear co-workers, may we, by the illumination of our love and faith, see it as it is, a glorious privilige.

By the te ching and moving of the Holy Spirit upon our hearts, may the bodily suffering and spiritual need of the women of Kiang-Yin become as real to us as if they were at our own doors.

May there be cleared away any possible question that the doing of this thing is the clear call of duty to us.

May we feel the urgency of it as if the loved ones of our homes were needy and sick.

Our Saviour, whose daily work on earth was the relief of suffering, looks upon every one of these waiting ones over there, and in clear accents comes to us His bidding, "Heal the sick that are therein and say unto them, the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you."

"What can I spare?" We say:
"Oh, this and this
From mine array,
I am not like to miss;

"And here are crumbs to feed some hungry one;
They do but grow a cumbrance on my shelf"—
And yet one reads, our Father gave his Son,
Our Master gave Himself!

Respectfully submitted.

EXTRACT FROM REPORT OF MRS. J. C. STEWART, AGENT OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

Our Union faces to-day the urgency of completing within a limited time, our Hospital plant at Kiang-Yin; and you, the young people in our Union, have your part to do in this work. The cots you have provided and have supported, have been instrumental in bringing many souls to Christ. Dr. Worth will tell you to-day of the physical suffering relieved and souls saved of many patints that have occupied your cots.

The Union hopes to have the Woman's Ward a completed building in eighteen months, and as the Young People provided the cots for the present Hospital building, I desire to have you furnish the cots for the Woman's Ward. Will each Band raise $30, by September, 1912, and place a cot in the Woman's Ward, as a memorial to some dear one, or as a monument of your Christian love for suffering humanity?

Let each Band go about the work with their motto before them, "We can and we will."

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 25TH.

From 9:00 to 9:30, the Morning Watch, conducted by Mrs. H. B. Moore of Gastonia, was observed in the First Baptist Church.

The Union convened in regular session at 9:30, Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, President, presiding.

Hymn, "I Love to Tell the Story," was sung, after which Mrs. J. A. Boldin of Lenoir, conducted devotional exercises, emphasizing Thanksgiving and Petition. A chain of prayer was followed by singing hymns, "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go," "The Morning Light is Breaking."

The Union then went into organization, and 180 delegates were enrolled at this hour.

Mrs. R. N. Pratt of Hendersonville, gave the Union a most cordial welcome on behalf of the local society, the Baptists of Hendersonville, and of the Carolina Association.

The President responded with words of sincere appreciation.

The Union then heard the Annual Address of the President.

OUR MISSION.

ADDRESS BY MISS FANNIE E. S. HECK, PRESIDENT.

In a safe repository in my own home is a yellowing composition written by my mother when as was the custom of the time, she reached her graduation day before sixteen. I cannot claim that her subject even then was either new or startling. Many a girl had doubtless used the topic before as many a sweet girl graduate has used it since. It was "Woman's Mission."

In our individual monthly meetings, our Associational gatherings and our Annual sessions we talk much of Missions. The word is interwoven in the very fiber of our existence. To-day, however, I do not wish to direct your thoughts to any mission field but to ask you to turn your eyes upon our own organization and to inquire what is our mission, to consider what we should accomplish by being as well as doing. If perchance we catch glimpses of any mission fields or lands we will see them only from the standpoint of our relation to them—our mission to Missions.

When we lean over a cradle we can only prophesy. When we forecast the mission of a full-grown man we do not deal wholly with the unknown, but base our reasoning for the future on the past.

Twenty-seven years ago the most hopeful who looked into the cradle of the North Carolina Union, to many the unwelcomed newcomer to denominational life, would not have dared to prophesy that it would now have expanded into more than a thousand branches which yearly give much more than the entire State Convention was giving at the time of its birth. From the past which has led to this we can, with little gift of prophecy other than thoughtful deductions from what has been to what will be, come to some definite understanding of what is the vastly significant mission of our organization to the individual, to the church, to the community, to the State, and to the regions beyond.

I invite you, therefore, to consider with me our mission, feeling sure that this view of the reason and possibility of our being, the cause "where unto we are sent," will tend to keep us true and steady to our goal by pointing out some features of our high calling of which we may have thought little or even overlooked.

Our Limitations.

The purposes of an organization must be performed through its parts. When we speak therefore of the mission of the Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina we speak of the mission of the individual society, your society and mine, whether that society be composed of women or children.

Moreover, to understand the mission of an individual or an institution we must realize its limitations. We do not expect pictures from the musician or music from the author. They do not, however, lose but gain by the realization of their limitations. Those who attempt to do everything seldom do anything. The brook whose shallow stream chatters between wide banks does nothing. The same stream confined turns, without wearying, the great bread-giving mill.

The purpose of the societies is to maintain missions in the usual interpretation of that term as applied to Community, State, Foreign and Home Missions. Some have doubted the wisdom of such short adherence to these limitations, but after twenty-seven years' experience I am firmly convinced that our limitations are a tremendous gain of power in these directions without loss in others. So carefully do we guard these limitations lest our strength be diverted from the great purpose of our organization, the maintenance of State, Home and Foreign Missions, that we do not even take account of funds expended in Community Missions, or as we more generally call it Personal Service. It goes without saying, therefore, that we do not enter here either the large amounts women give for local church building or repair, the carpets which cover the carpetless churches, their work in the Sunday-school, their contributions to pastors' salaries and to the multiform benevolences of the church. It does not follow, however, that they do not add much to these because of their training in the society. A man whose ear has been taught to distinguish the faintest chord of soft music, catches first the clash of the nearby martial music. The ear taught to catch the cry of distress from some unseen but needy soul will not fail to respond to loud calls near at hand.

From its force-giving limitations therefore the Missionary Society is at once only a part of church life, yet felt in its every part.

MISSION TO THE INDIVIDUAL.

Since the church cannot rise higher than the Christian life of those who compose it, the first mission of this part of the church, as all others, must be the building up of the individual Christian character. You will at once agree with me therefore that any part which does not do this has no right to a place in the church which has the building of character for its one end. Indeed we can find no better test for any department of the church's activities than the character test.

Viewing the societies from this standpoint let us analyze the character-building mission in individual lives. If they have these qualities we should find their results in all branches of societies, the same traits being read in terms of childhood, boyhood, young and older womanhood. Those who are at all acquainted with the inner life of the societies will need no application of the statement that they train prayer, faith, liberality and educate in many phases of world life.

Loving fellowship and sympathy grow from assembling themselves together; united prayer becomes a habit; faith is strengthened by knowledge of mission conquest; self-denial is inculcated by holding up greater results than brief personal gratification; gentleness and forbearance by working together in close relations; diligence and business methods in Christian work by the systematic transaction of the societies' affairs; steadfastness of purpose by regular meetings and gifts; godliness by Bible study, and to sisterly kindness is added love, expressing itself in helpful deeds.

The missionary society is generally the only place where the women of the church meet alone year after year with one another. Here their ties of Christian life are most closely knit.It is as a rule the only place where women's hearts speak out their spiritual longing with one another in Bible study and prayer.

To make strong, faithful and faith-filled Christians is the Union's mission to the individual. It has fulfilled and is fulfilling this mission in many lives. Were the character result all the societies accomplished in lives young and old they would be amply worth while. If your society is not bringing some of these results in some lives, look to the cause. It is failing in its basal mission. It is failing in the ideal of the organization. Merely to reach our "aim" is an unworthy aim. To live our aim is better than to reach it by spasmodic effort. To so translate the purposes of that aim into our lives that its attainment will be the natural result of the Christians we are, is the high result we seek.

And, will you pardon a word from one who has been long among you? It is this. Never did the times so much demand such women as it is the ideal of the society to contribute its share in making, as now. We cannot conceal from ourselves that there is great danger that the larger liberty coming to women will be translated by many into larger license. There is threatened a time, it is now indeed upon us, when women in their eagerness to seize the new will hold lightly the old and true. There are many signs of straining at the anchors not only of custom but of modesty, duty, and religion. In this time of change Christian women need as never before to hold fast to that which is good; to find the footsteps of the Master in all the new walks of life and step quietly but with united tread in them. If our mission is character, character is needed.

Mission to the Church.

The Societies' mission in the church is manifold. It is, as has been said, only a part of the church's life and as a part should act in harmony with every other part. The society in the vast majority of churches is the only organization attempting to keep abreast with the changing times from the standpoint of Christian progress, by mission study, not only in the monthly society meetings, but in mission study classes; it is usually the only body which prays regularly once a month for definite mission objects, which observes stated weeks of prayer for missions and holds up before itself daily definite prayer for definite mission fields and workers. The Woman's Missionary Society is the only organization which has charged itself with the training of the young to definite mission service beginning now in systematic knowledge, prayer, and gifts to grow until the end of their lives. Generally the societies are the only organizations which stand for regular gifts to missions contributed and forwarded regularly throughout the year. It is as a rule the only group of church members who have held up before them constantly the duty and privilege of tithing. This system is by no means universal but the growth of liberality among the society members is worthy of note. While the women and children of the societies of the Baptist churches of this State control probably one-hundredth part of the wealth of the church they are giving one-third of what the entire church gives to missions.

Therefore, whether they are aware of it or not, certainly without self-righteous boasting, the societies, by their very walk and conversation, are examples of growing knowledge, systematic liberality and steadfastness to a great and loved purpose. Those who know their work best are loudest in the praise of its example and influence in the church. Such men are those who lead the laymen's movement and do not hesitate to acknowledge that it strives to follow the example set by the women's organizations which were in the field long before them. Such men are our Board Secretaries one of whom, whose praise never fails us, our own State Board Secretary, we miss at our gathering for the first time since he came into his office. The local church should be and I believe is a better church for having in it active mission societies. Sometimes strange things come to pass. These I quote from a letter which recently reached me from another State. The minister had bought a number of mission books because he said he could not have his wife better informed than he was. For a similar reason a men's mission study class had been formed. Another minister similarly stirred had asked to be allowed to lead three mission study classes a week. He was hurrying indeed to catch up. In our own and other States there are many and some notable examples of the whole church being stirred to liberality by the women's example. But being in any way an example is not so much a privilege as an obligation. If any look to us it is ours to see that they do not look in vain.

MISSION TO THE COMMUNITY.

The mission to the community is one of loving service. This is the field into which we have recently entered for united service. It is not for a moment to be assumed that the individuals who compose the societies have not always given loving care to the needy around them or when opportunity offered spoken a word of warning and counsel to those both rich and poor in spiritual need. They could not have been the women they were without doing these things. The good neighbor, the gentle friend has moved in and out through her community blessing as she went.

From this fact some have failed to understand the meaning of our call to personal service. Personal service is neighborliness raised to the Christlike point of including all who need, whom we can help for Christ's sake. Rich or poor, acquaintance or alien, exalted or despised, are alike subjects of its ministrations if they need. What is sought is that the same impulses which lead to neighborliness shall be broadened and deepened and find form and definite purpose in some organized work under the direction of the society. While many varieties of such service will be wrought out by the different societies to meet different needs, some are adapted to all communities and societies. We specially commend mothers' meetings and Mission Sunday-schools for the W. M. S.; teaching in Mission Sunday-schools and clubs for girls less fortunate than themselves for young women, and thoughtful care for sick and crippled children and the aged sick for the children. It is not too much to expect that by united and wisely directed effort our Union shall become one of the great constructive forces in the uplift of our State. If there were organized this summer a hundred mothers' meetings, giving simple but definite instruction in the preparation and protection from infection of the food for young children we might by next year save the lives of, it may be, several hundred children. The women of Chicago did such work in the name of philanthropy. The Baptist women of North Carolina can do it in the name of Christ and save and teach the mother as they instruct her in the care of her child's body. The whole thought of charity is changing.

Prevention is rightly esteemed more highly than cure. It is better to save the child from disease than cure him when he must still forever bear the marks of disease. Better still to remove the cause which will save many children from sickness. Moreover we have ceased to laud the so-called charity which gives to the drunken beggar and asks no questions. We want to follow the beggar, who is still a man, home, see the cause of his poverty, teach him how to remove it, show him a better way for himself and his family and give him a helping hand to walk in it. The new task is far more difficult than the old. We need to be fitted for it. We need to study our brother's need and how to apply the remedy. Our Personal Service Department is giving deep thought to this and preparing well thought out and timely books on how the work which our kindly hearts would prompt us to do can be done. Study these and act upon them, it is a part of our mission. Do not boast that our State has no need. One society says there is none known to them. They seemed to have arrived at the point we all desire. When all our communities are so happy we may withdraw from this new field. Till then I ask for it much deeper thought than it has had from many societies. Some have planned well and have expected with great care and wisdom striving for and expecting definite results in the permanent betterment of homes and lives. It is no holiday or showy task upon which we have entered but our calling for constant self-denial and personal labor with a Christ-like purpose.

Mission to the State.

As we take up this mission to our community, we will be fulfilling a part of our mission to our State. In common with all the South and indeed our whole nation, North Carolina is ringing with the call to Social Service. We hear of better baby contests. Social Centers and Social Service Associations in all that is good, we as Christian women should hold a vital interest and be a vital part of the churches of all denominations, feel the call to ally themselves with these great movements. Our North Carolina Union in its 1,000 branches has vast opportunities to serve our State in uplift. As a Christian Union it must serve in the name of Christ and with the avowed purpose of so serving that men shall see that you serve for Christ's sake and be led to love Him whom you love. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom in every day as well as what we call religious life, as has been said, "The soul of prosperity is the prosperity of the soul." The ideal community will be ideal because it follows the ideals of Christ. In our special mission to our State through our State Mission Board we have been assigned to happy tasks of setting up houses from whose windows gleam out the light of these ideals. For ourselves, it is our mission to the State to be ideal Christian citizens.

MISSION TO OTHER LANDS.

Of other States and lands, your first thought will probably be, that the mission I shall mention is the giving of money. Surely it is a God-like thing to so control our lives that we may share our possessions with those who in the great world family are in need of what goes deepest, the need of a principle and belief which will result in the relief of need both spiritual and physical. But this you recognize.

I would dwell rather upon the mission, close to the life of each individual, to so esteem this cause that your attitude will make missionaries. This goes much deeper than what usually passes for a belief in missions. It puts them in the high place where they stand to bestow a crown which will adorn any head. It puts us in an attitude of joyous acceptance of this crown for ourselves or our loved ones. It sees in this the badge of co-workers with the King of kings, the insignia of the royal family. It is time we ceased to plead for missions as a mendicant and hold that we confer an honor upon any whom, by the presentation of these matters, we show we consider worthy of participation in so fine a service. Do you present to the ignorant a work of philosophy, or to the depraved a poem of light? To be supposed to be interested and to be invited to take part in that which calls for such broad sympathies, such intelligence of wide affairs, such nobility of character is a high distinction. When we covet and seize this honor for ourselves and those we have, then we will be fulfilling to the full our mission to missions.

So the circle is complete. It began with character and ends there. Truly of missions it may be said they seek not yours, but you; you, that they may help to create in you a Christlike character; you, to send out to those around you; you and your most precious ones, to crown them with glory which brought your Saviour from heaven to earth.

Hymn, "I Am Thine, O Lord," was sung.

The President introduced Mrs. Hawkins, aged eighty-nine, the oldest member of the Hendersonville Church, and the mother of the late Mrs. Hudgins, Vice President of the French Broad Association. In this connection the late Miss Josephine Lane, Vice President of the Carolina, was also tenderly remembered.

The Union bowed in prayer in memorial of these workers.

Miss Blanche Barrus, Corresponding Secretary, presented her report, as follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

A SURVEY.—In reviewing the work of the past year I am reminded of the little girl, who, in trying to describe a particularly happy occasion said, "The together-ness is so lovely." For truly every year brings an increased joy in the ever deepening spirit of united love and prayerful co-operation manifested by our workers in every part of the State. The report of the Corresponding Secretary can never be a record of her work alone, but rather, an incomplete summary of the faithfulness of every society worker. I wish that, to-day, instead of giving you a statistical report, I could share with you some of the inspiration and joy that has come to me through visits to societies and Associations, through letters brimming over with love and hope and consecration, and through a personal knowledge of real sacrifice on the part of many of our women. But it is necessary, in order to lay plans for the future, to take some detailed account of our work, and to get a closer view of some of the marks of advance that are an outgrowth of this beautiful spirit of co-operation.

Our Numbers.—In accordance with the recommendations adopted at our last meeting, all societies that had not been actively at work for one year were dropped from the list, bringing our number of societies down to 1,020. This year 52 more societies have reported to the Treasurer than last year, and 206 new ones have been added to our list, making a total of 1,072 now actively engaged in mission work. The membership of these societies should be a matter of vital interest and concern, but as yet we have not been able to come even near to getting an accurate idea of our membership. Of the nearly 1,200 questionnaires sent out in January only 326 were returned. No worker, truly interested, will deny that the supreme task before the Baptist women of North Carolina is the enlistment of our unenlisted women, young women, and children. But how shall we ever know whether we are reaching an increasing number of our women unless we have an accurate record of those already enrolled in societies? This year, the General Union has given us valuable help along this line, the splendid record blank furnished in the Year Book making it easy and simple, if the record be faithfully kept, for every society to answer fully the questionnaire at the close of the year. I would urge most earnestly that during the coming year every society shall make an effort to keep such a record, so that at our next Annual Session we may be able to know the full strength of our numbers, and to plan more definitely for further enlistment and development.

Standard of Excellence.—This year, again, the standard adopted by the General Union has been put before every society as a definite working guide. The annual reports show that 72 societies have made four points or class C; 64, six points, or class B; 42, eight points, or class A, while 12 are on the Honor List, these last two numbers doubling those in the two highest classes last year. We are especially encouraged to note 126 Mission Study Classes, 450 tithers, 216 societies reporting definite Personal Service; 1,300 new members enrolled, and a large increase in numbers of subscribers to our Missionary publications. These results represent the attainments of less than a third of our societies. If the comparatively few have been able to accomplish so much, who can estimate the results if all were actively at work?

ASSOCIATIONAL AND FIELD WORK.—The Associational work this year shows both a strengthening within the Associations already organized, and the beginnings of growth in several heretofore undeveloped. Fourteen Associations have made a ten per cent increase over last year's contributions, and 20 have reached or over-reached their financial aims. Three new Unions have been organized this year, the Caldwell, the Surry, and the Yadkin, and nine new Vice Presidents have been appointed, as follows: In the Caldwell, Mrs. J. A. Boldin of Lenoir; in the Green River, Miss Clara Morris, Union Mills; in the Little River, Miss Mattie Bain of Coats; in the Neuse-Atlantic, Mrs. C. W. Blanchard, Kinston; in the Sandy Run, Miss Mary Washburn, Forest City; in the Surry, Mrs. J. H. Thorpe, Elkin; in the Tar River, Mrs. W. W. Parker, Henderson; in the West Chowan, Mrs. John Freeman, Ahoskie; and in the Yadkin, Miss Della Woodhouse, Booneville. These officers have entered upon their work with zeal and enthusiasm, and have already done much to develop an interest in Missions throughout the bounds of their Associations, and to lay before the societies more efficient methods of work. We have been particularly encouraged by the large number of annual reports received from our western Vice Presidents, and the increasing number of western women enlisted in our work. For these results we are indebted, in no small measure, to Mrs. W. H. Woodall, former Vice President of the Haywood Association, who, by her splendid service rendered in the Western Division Institute, through personal visits, letters and words of encouragement, has done much to inform and train the women of this Division, and to bring them in closer touch with the plans of the Central Committee.

Through the combined efforts of the Union officers, seventeen Associational meetings have been attended, two by the President, three by the Treasurer, and thirteen by the Corresponding Secretary. It would take long to tell you of all the helpful features of these meetings. In one or two, Associational Missionaries have been employed, and are doing much in upbuilding the work; in others, Associational libraries are helping to broaden our information policy; others are realizing the necessity and value of special superintendents for Junior societies, and appointing District Superintendents to assist the Vice President in her duties. Still others have prepared special Associational questionnaires and leaflets of information, to supplement the literature sent out from the Central office, and to meet the special needs of their societies. The meetings have been carefully prepared and largely attended, and our Vice Presidents and leaders have universally expressed themselves as confidently expecting larger things next year. These opportunities for personal contact with workers who are constantly facing and solving the most difficult problems of our work, have been rare experiences of blessing, inspiration and joy.

Junior Work.—There has been a gradual and gratifying growth in the Junior work this year, especially among the children's Bands. The Sunbeams continue to be the most promising department of our work, the majority of the Bands having faithfully followed all the plans put before them, and over-reaching their aims, both in gifts, and in number of organizations. The Royal Ambassadors, too, though few in numbers, have worked faithfully, and much gratitude is due them and their loyal leaders.

Y. W. A.'s and College Students.—The importance of securing the interest and co-operation of young women, both for their own sake and for the sake of the work is being felt as never before. The fact that this year the Y. W. A.'s have exceeded by over two hundred dollars their financial aim, and have made greater progress along all lines than ever before brings joy to the hearts of all who have been associated with them in the work. In the absence of a State Leader, the Auxiliaries have seemed to realize an added responsibility, and the loyalty and enthusiasm of both girls and leaders has been most encouraging and inspiring. We are also deeply indebted to the girls of Chowan and Meredith Colleges for their faithful co-operation and for their liberal gifts. During the year a special effort has been made to inform them about every phase of our work, and their gifts have been equally divided to the objects of the State, Home and Foreign Boards.

We are greatly rejoiced that this year North Carolina has five bright young women in the Training School. From time to time these busy, happy girls have taken time to write us of their great joy in the life and influence of the Training School, and of their gratitude to the Union for making their splendid opportunities possible.

The St. Louis Meeting.—Closely linked in my mind with thoughts of the Training School, and the possibilities for young women are memories of the St. Louis meeting. The Corresponding Secretary is deeply indebted to the Union for the privilege of attending as one of your delegates. During the whole of that delightful week, my greatest wish was that I might share the blessings of that meeting with every Baptist woman in North Carolina. There were many rare and uplifting experiences, one which stands out so vividly in my mind I cannot refrain from mentioning it—the presence in that first morning session of ten charter members of our Southern W. M. U., those who had planted the seed of our Missionary endeavor and nourished with care and in prayer the budding growth that their daughters of to-day might gather and wear the fragrant full-blown flower of their faithful tending. Again and again, I thought of them, as the days wore on, and wondered if at the end of the next quarter of a century the Y. W. A.'s of to-day will be able to present a record so full of heroic achievement. If so, it will call for heroic effort on our part, as leaders. Our young women already enlisted are doing faithful work; but as yet, the number of Y. W. A.'s in North Carolina is but one-fourth the number of our Woman's Missionary Societies. In view of this appalling fact, what better definite aim could be set before each W. M. S. than the organization and fostering of a Y. W. A. in the nearest church lacking that organization? What a glorious gathering next year, if every mother society could report at least one Junior organization!

MISSIONARY EDUCATION.—As heretofore, three principal lines of endeavor have been followed for informing our women along missionary lines: the special Weeks of Prayer, and distribution of literature, Mission Study Classes, and the Division Institutes. As shown in the accompanying statistical report, the amount of literature distributed has been unusually large, and this is especially true of the special offering envelopes and Week of Prayer leaflets and programs. One hundred and twenty-six Mission Study classes are reported, 72 of these having used the special study of the present year, "In Royal Service." We have now more than twelve hundred subscribers to Our Mission Fields, and an increase of 650 new subscribers to the Home and Foreign Mission Journals. Three Institutes have been held, in the Asheville, Charlotte, and Greensboro Divisions. Two of these have been largely attended, and from all three come encouraging reports of unusual success in carrying out the original purpose of the Institutes, in covering more of the problems of the local society, and by open conferences and questions working out practical plans for advancing the society work.

THE TASK AHEAD.—And so the year's done with! All there has been of God's spirit in it, either in our failures or success, will be abundantly blessed to our good and to His glory. Though conscious of a record somewhat below our aims, the results here recounted show that our work has not been on a dead level, but rather a gradual advance along the upward winding way of service. Though our hands are not filled with large sheaves of increase in gifts, as last year, the Lord of the Harvest has witnessed much faithful sowing. Every word spoken, every letter written, every good impulse planted, in His name, may bring blessing undreamed of.

"Ours is the seed-time, God alone,
Beholds the good of what is sown,
Beyond our vision, weak and dim,
The harvest time is hid with Him."

A new year, with greater tasks, greater opportunities, and greater joys, awaits us. Growth and enthusiasm, and an eagerness to share in the work of the Kingdom, are everywhere manifest. Let us, rejoicing in the strength of Him who leads us, and praying for powers equal to our tasks, go forth with new hope and courage and determination to win larger results to the glory of His name.

The reports of Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer were received.

On motion of Mrs. W. H. Woodall it was voted to send a message from the body to Mrs. W. N. Jones. The President appointed Mrs. Woodall to prepare the message.

Miss Elizabeth N. Briggs, Band Superintendent, presented her report, as follows:

REPORT OF BAND AND R. A. SUPERINTENDENT FOR 1913-14.

It is always a joyous privilege to be the bearer of good news. You have long learned to expect growth and progress in the work of the Sunbeams and Royal Ambassadors and it is seldom they offer a disappointment in any particular.

This year we rejoice again in the work and gifts of the Junior branches of our mission work. In the point of new societies there are seventy-eight new Bands and nine new Chapters. This brings the total number of Sunbeam Bands to 375, total Royal Ambassador Chapters 78. The most gratifying evidence of the activity of these societies is found in the fact that all but forty-one of the Bands have reported this year.

In contributions the Sunbeams have exceeded their aim for the year reaching the splendid sum of $4,505.49.

The contribution for the Royal Ambassadors is $428.92, a slight falling off from last year. But many of the Chapters are doing excellent work and giving fine training to the boys.

Several Associations have appointed Junior Superintendents and others are looking for suitable women or girls to take up this work. Very marked growth both in the number of Bands and in their regularity of reporting may be seen in Associations where these Superintendents are really at work.

One Sunbeam Band, Vaughan, in the Tar River Association has reached the full standard of excellence. This shows clearly what is possible for others and we hope next year to have many more following the fine example of this Band. Eight Bands are in Class A; twelve in Class B; and sixteen in Class C.

It has been our custom to print the names of the six Bands leading in contributions during the year. This year there are fourteen Bands giving more than $50 and we feel that they must be given special mention. Please note that five of these are in city churches; five in town churches; two in small towns and two in the country.

Charlotte, First, $265.02; Lumberton, $168.68; Greensboro, First, $166.07; Asheboro Street, Greensboro, $111.35; Hickory, $96.92; Ashpole, $86.75; Washington, $75; Wilson, $73.97; Magnolia, $66.85; Gastonia, $65.93; Asheville, First, $59.74; Sawyer's Creek, $56.55; Brown Memorial, Winston-Salem, $55.61; Youngsville, $50.10.

While many other Bands have done good and faithful work we hope these fourteen may show what large things can be done by little people.

Of the Royal Ambassadors the Winston-Salem First Church Chapter still leads with $88. But the First Church of Asheville is a close second with $80.57. Other Chapters also are doing most constant and commendable work.

The great problems of the Junior work are how to build up the Bands in the cities where so many distractions are offered, and how most wisely to press organization in the country churches.

With praise and thanksgiving for the past let us face the future with a determination to give more earnest heed to this work of training the children for the Master's service.

Elizabeth N. Briggs.

To the North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union in Annual Session —GREETINGS:

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention sends heartiest greetings to you, the Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, as you assemble in Hendersonville. May this, your twenty-fourth annual session, register great advance over any previous most excellent year and may you take renewed courage as you plan for your silver anniversary.

It is fitting that your meeting is this year held way up in the mountains. A number of you in ascending the mountain saw, seven times over, the great geyser beyond Asheville. May its beauty and strength, its reappearance and life-giving qualities be typical of the influence which this your annual meeting shall have upon your entire year's work. May its beauty and strength be reproduced from time to time in the work of the individual delegates and in that of the societies as they call to mind the addresses, reports and demonstrations which at this annual meeting are made in the name of the great life-giving Saviour.

Those of you who belong to large families are accustomed to bearing your own share of the household duties and in addition lending help to the younger sister or to the aged parent. The Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention represents a family of eighteen and it is delightful to see the willingness with which the stronger sisters, while doing their own part, lend a helping hand in the work of the weaker ones. Thus it is that your State does each year about one-tenth of all that the southern union undertakes. This represents much in the way of distributing missionary information and the ingathering of missionary funds. Still you have enjoyed the added trust and responsibility and have co-operated heartily with each forward movement as set forth in the Standard of Excellence, the Training School, the commissions on efficiency and the Jubilate. Each of these will lay out advanced plans at Nashville in May. It is hoped that into your sister State you will send a full delegation and that from that meeting as well as from this present one great good may come to your State and through you to all for whom the Woman's Missionary Union is working and praying. Read Philemon, 3-6.

KATHLEEN MALLORY,
Cor. Sec. W. M. U.

There was a motion to send a reply to the above and it was so ordered.

The following letter from Dr. Livingston Johnson, Corresponding Secretary of the Baptist State Convention, was read by Mrs. J. R. Morgan.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 18, 1914.

To the Convention of the W. M. U., Hendersonville, N. C.:

MY DEAR SISTERS: Please accept fraternal greetings and warmest congratulations from one whose unavoidable absence causes him deep regret.

Upon your kind invitation I was present at your first separate meeting, which was held in the city of Durham, and it has been my pleasure to attend every meeting since. Circumstances over which I have no control make it impossible for me to attend your meeting in Hendersonville. Forgive me for this once, and I shall do my best to be with you in the future.

It is a pleasure to know that Mr. J. D. Moore will fill my place, and fill it most acceptably. After hearing him I am sure you will have no occasion to regret my absence.

I have prepared a little tract which I hope you will enjoy, a package of which I have shipped to Hendersonville for distribution. It will give the societies a meager conception of the results of our church building enterprise. This tract does not tell the whole story. There are some things that cannot be told in cold print. Many have already been won to Christ by the preaching of the gospel in these houses, and hundreds of children gather within their walls every Sunday, to study God's word. Several of these churches have been brought to the self-sustaining point by providing houses of worship, and through all the coming years, they will be contributors to the objects of our Convention. I do not believe that an equal amount of money invested in any other department of our work, has brought such rich and permanent returns, as the twenty-one thousand dollars which has been appropriated to church building.

Let me say to the Young Ladies' Auxiliaries, that the equipment of the Hyde County mission field has been completed. Four years ago we had an old dilapidated house of worship in Hyde County. We now have three excellent houses of worship, a beautiful home for the preacher, and a lot for another house of worship, when the time comes to erect it. I am sorry to report that we have lost our missionary in Hyde, he having resigned to accept a call to another field; but I am now in correspondence with a good man whom I hope to secure as missionary. The work in Hyde County will be slow, but I have faith to believe that the day will break before very long, and you young women have done much to hasten its coming.

This word to the Sunbeams: The work on the church at the Kennedy Home has not yet begun. They have been busy in building the houses in which the boys and girls are to live, and were not able to begin upon the church. Brother Kesler assures me that the work will begin soon, and I told him he could call on me for your five hundred dollars when he is ready for it.

But I did not mean to "talk shop" in this letter. I only wanted to assure you of my interest, and to congratulate you upon the completion of the best year's work in your history. There is no discouragement whatever in the fact that you did not quite reach your aim this year. If the money that the women contributed to the Judson Memorial Fund were counted, I am quite sure it would put you beyond your aim. It is all one work, and if you raised as much money as you set out to raise, what material difference does it make, if it is not divided just as you had fixed it in your aim? Indeed, in one respect it is to your credit that you did fall below your aim. It shows that your work is well organized and reduced to such a system that there isn't much room for flexibility. Your work is not done by spurts and spasms, but by a steady pull. What you gain, you hold, and go on next year to a higher aim. You raised as much money as you set out to raise, and the division of it is a mere matter of detail. There is no room for discouragement, but everything to inspire you, as you enter the New Year.

I cannot close this letter without expressing my high appreciation of the work done by your faithful and efficient Corresponding Secretary. She has been "instant in season and out of season," and has shown herself to be "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." Her office is hard by mine, and it is a veritable workshop.

The other officers of the Central Committee have rendered much unselfish service. They have given their time, without measure and without money, to the King's business.

Trusting that this may be the best convention you have ever held, and praying God's richest blessings upon your work, I am,

Sincerely yours,

LIVINGSTON JOHNSON.

These amendments were accepted by the Union, after which the recommendations, as a whole were adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION OF NORTH CAROLINA.

PREPARED BY THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

With a deep sense of the blessings brought by faithful service to our great and kind heavenly Father, and belief in the ever increasing strength that will come to us through going forward in His power along the lines of His commands, we adopt the following as our Working Plans for the year, March 1914-1915:

I. WATCH WORD. For ye serve the Lord Christ.

II. POINTS OF EMPHASIS. That we continue to emphasize the necessity, in all departments of our life and work, of a daily Christion life controlled by the teachings and principles of our Master; systematic Bible and Mission Study; prayer; the giving of at least a tithe of the income under our control to the extension of God's Kingdom in the earth; and the training of the young people to serve and give for the salvation of the world.

III. AIMS IN ORGANIZATION. That in the perfecting and extension of the Union, we endeavor to have each organized society on our list report once a quarter; that we add one-tenth to the present number of W. M. S., one-fourth to the active Y. W. A.'s; one-fifth to the Sunbeams; one-fourth to the Royal Ambassadors.

IV. CONDITIONS OF MEMBERSHIP AND OFFICE. That all societies that have not reported for one year be dropped from the mailing list; and in case a Vice President fails to report for a year the Central Committee shall elect another officer in her place.

V. SPECIAL OCCASIONS. That societies be urged to send representatives to Associational Meetings and Missionary Institutes; to observe the Christmas Offering and Week of Prayer for World-Wide Missions, the first week of January; the Week of Prayer and Thank-Offering for Home Missions the second week in April and State Mission Day in September.

VI. MISSIONARY LITERATURE. Since it is anticipated that our Mission Fields, the official organ of the General Woman's Missionary Union, and the only magazine giving full monthly programmes for all branches of our societies, young and old, is to be expanded into an illustrated monthly (price twenty-five cents), containing, besides monthly programmes, direct news from our Home and Foreign Women Missionaries, exchange of society methods and much general missionary news, that a determined Subscription Campaign be conducted in May for the purpose of adding 5,000 subscribers in North Carolina, the societies to report number of subscribers gained in the first quarter's report; that the Literature Committee having the May Campaign in charge, be continued during the year as a Standing Committee on Mission Literature, getting subscriptions and renewals to the Foreign Mission Journal (twenty-five cents in clubs of ten), The Home Field (twenty-five cents in clubs of ten), and Biblical Recorder ($1.50).

VII. PERSONAL SERVICE. That we continue to urge each society to prayerfully study the spiritual and physical needs of its own community and strive to elevate it, by giving to it personal service; to appoint a Personal Service Committee to have charge of this work under the direction of the Society; to correspond in reference to it with the Chairman of the Personal Service Committee of the Central Committee. The societies are further urged to take as their special forms of Personal Service, to be fostered by W. M. S., Mother's Meetings, and Mission Sunday-schools, by Y. W. A.'s and Junior Auxiliaries, teaching in Mission Sunday-schools and organizing clubs for girls less fortunate than themselves; by Royal Ambassadors help for other boys who need sympathy and guidance, by Sunbeams brightening the lives of the sick and crippled among the children and the aged; to use the excellent, helpful publications of the Personal Service Department of the General Union, 15 W. Franklin Street, Baltimore, and study the wisest plans for social betterment with which they can come in contact; to keep statistical statements of work done, and to report the same on the Personal Service blanks sent them, but to remember that the regular contributions of the societies are already pledged to mission work through our regular mission channels and that no money spent on work in their own communities will be reported by the treasurer of the Union.

VIII. GATHERING AND REPORTING FUNDS. That each society endeavor to secure regular weekly or monthly collections for Missions from every woman, young woman and child in the churches, these contributions to be paid either to the church treasurer, or to Mr. Walters Durham, Treasurer of the Baptist State Convention, Raleigh, N. C., and the amounts reported on blanks sent out for the purpose to the Treasurer of the Woman's Missionary Union, Mrs. Wesley N. Jones, Raleigh, N. C.

IX. APPORTIONMENT. That the money aim of each Association as adopted at the annual session of the State Union be divided by each Vice President among the societies of her Association, these aims being put before the societies not later than six weeks after the annual session on apportionment cards, provided by the Central Committee.

X. EXPENSE FUND OF CENTRAL COMMITTEE. That during the month of May all societies send in the Expense Fund for the work of the Central Committee for the year on the basis of ten cents per member. That the Societies do not fail to contribute five cents per member each year towards the Associational Expenses, for printing association minutes, annual meeting, vice president's postage, etc., this fund to be known as the Associational Progress Fund, and to be brought or sent to the Annual Association Meeting; that Societies inviting the vice president to visit them, consider her their guest for that occasion and either arrange means of conveyance or pay her traveling expenses.

XI. MISSION STUDY. That for this year in Royal Service, the history of the Union, written by Miss Fannie E. S. Heck, be recommended for the mission study of all classes of societies which have not yet completed it.

XII. TRAINING SCHOOL. That we undertake to raise for the W. M. U. Training School at Louisville, Ky., the sum of $1,335 and that this amount be distributed as follows: Two scholarships of $175 each; for current expenses, $335; for enlargement, $650. That the Training School be our special object for the summer quarter, beginning June 1 and ending August 31st.

XIII. THE JUBILATE. That we continue the observance of the Jubilate until every society has united in this celebration, the gifts on these occasions being given to the Judson Centennial Fund for Foreign Missions and the Home Mission Church Building Loan Fund, according to the preference of the donors, great emphasis being laid on the fact that these gifts are made by individuals and are over and above the regular Mission Contributions, which can, only with great disaster, be diverted from the support of the Mission work and workers now on the field.

XIV. STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE. That we adopt the following standard of excellence for Woman's Societies and Young Woman's Auxiliaries.

1. At least twelve regular meetings a year with a devotional exercise and a definite missionary program.

2. An increase in membership during the year of at least twenty-five per cent of the number enrolled at the beginning of the year until all eligible members are enlisted.

3. An increase of gifts to missions of not less than ten per cent of the preceding year's contributions to similar objects.

4. Regular reports to State Officers each quarter of the year.

5. One of the denominational magazines or a Calendar of Prayer, subscribed for in at least half of the homes represented in the Missionary Society, the ultimate aim, being one in every home.

6. Observance of the special seasons of prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions, and the Jubilate, in case it has not already been observed.

7. At least one Mission Study during the year.

8. An average attendance at regular meetings of a number equal to one-half of the membership.

9. Some definite, organized Personal Service rendered regularly to those of your own community in spiritual or physical need.

10. Organization and fostering of a Missionary Society in a neighboring church, or for the younger people of the local church.

XV. FINANCIAL AIMS. That the aim for the year 1914-15 be $42,535. This amount to be divided as follows, any gift or pledge made to the Jubilate Fund being over and above this sum:

To Foreign Missions	$18,000
To Home Missions	11,500
To State Missions	11,000
To Louisville Training School	1,335
To Sunday-school Board	100
To Expense Fund	600
Total	$42,535

and that the State Mission Board be authorized to use $5,000, or more if deemed expedient, of the amount given to State Missions for the State Mission Church Building Fund.

In the absence of Mrs. Hight C. Moore, North Carolina member of the Board of Trustees of the Training School, her report was presented by Mrs. G. E. Leftwich.

OUR TRAINING SCHOOL AT LOUISVILLE, KY.

This has been the best year in the history of our W. M. U. Training School, having an enrollment of fifty-nine boarders and twenty day students. A course has been arranged for the benefit of the wives of seminary students, and quite a number are taking advantage of this opportunity.

Fifteen States are now represented in the Training School, Virginia leading with eight students. North Carolina has five representives, the largest number ever there at one time from our State. They are Miss Pearl Johnson of Pittsboro; Miss Netta Liles of Jonesboro; Miss Minnie Middleton of Warsaw; Miss Mary Lou Powers of Willard, and Miss Miriam Schell of Asheville.

The Training School building has been taxed to the utmost this year to take care of so many girls, and rooms have been rented across the street to accommodate eight students.

Last year our State gave one scholarship. We want to give two this year, and have set as our aim the sum of $1,335 to be distributed as follows: Two scholarships of $175 each; for current expenses, $335, and for enlargement, $650. The aim for the past year was practically reached, and it is earnestly desired that each Society will have a part in contributing to the Training School during the summer quarter ending August 31.

On October 17 the annual opening occurred, and from that time until the Training School closes the following activities are being conducted under the supervision of the principal and Miss Leachman: A Sunday-school, Girls' Camp Fires, Bluebird Organization for Girls, Two Boys' Clubs, Friendly Circle for Mothers, Story and Industrial Hour, Branch of Public Library, Music Lessons, and the Playground. The settlement work has prospered beyond the highest hopes.

God is answering our prayers for the Training School. Let us show our gratitude by influencing more of our girls to take training there, and by our gifts enable our institution to achieve greater and greater victories for our Master.

MRS. HIGHT C. MOORE.

Miss Rose Edna Brown read greetings from North Carolina girls at the Training School.

The report of Committee on Training School was presented by Mrs. W. B. Muse, Wilmington, and adopted.

REPORT ON TRAINING SCHOOL.

Realizing as never before the crisis in our mission work at home and abroad and along with the preparation being made to meet the conditions and the greater opportunities for advancing the Kingdom, we desire to have our women who are to go into the work receive the best possible training that they may be fitted for lives of greatest usefulness, we recommend—

1. That we encourage consecrated young women with good health and proper preparation, to enter the doors of our training school in Louisville, Ky.

2. That we strive to lay this work on the hearts of our women, especially our young women, in such a way as to make them feel the necessity of liberal giving to its support, and that we heartily commend the plan of contributing a generous sum to this object during the second quarter.

3. That we set as our aim the sum of $1,335 this year to be distributed as follows: Two scholarships of $175 each, $335 for current expenses, $650 for enlargement, and that the Central Committee decide to whom the scholarships are to be given.

4. That all funds collected for this school be forwarded promptly to Mrs. W. N. Jones, our Treasurer, who will see that the funds reach their proper destination.

5. That we make this school an object of study and earnest prayer; that we co-operate with the principal, Mrs. McClure, in her efforts to make this school a vital force in our denominational work.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. MUSE, Chairman.
MRS. CANNADY.
MRS. GRIGGS.
MISS CALLIE DUNLAP.
MISS LORENA PORTER.

It was recommended by Miss Barrus that the above committee send a telegram to Mrs. Moore expressing regret at her absence.

Mrs. J. R. Morgan, for the Committee on Plans of Work, offered the following:

REPORT ON PLANS OF WORK.

The Committee on Plans of Work beg to recommend:

1. That the spirituality of the individual members be increased, and as a means to this end that much stress be laid upon daily reading of the Bible and prayer, and that, if possible, more persons be induced to lead in prayer at the meetings of the societies.

2. That as all are in need of more information as to our work, a special effort be made to have a successful Mission Study Class in each organization.

3. That each Society seek to exemplify more fully to their community the love and teachings of the Master, and engage in some definite form of personal service.

4. That the Woman's page in the Biblical Recorder be made more and more a medium of interchange of practical suggestions; to this end each Society is asked to send brief accounts of methods or plans, found successful, or submit questions for solution.

5. That the Program Committee for the next annual meeting arrange for observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the North Carolina Union.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. ERNEST ERWIN, Chairman.
MRS. ARCHIBALD JOHNSON.
MRS. P. H. ST. CLAIR.
MRS. W. H. REDDISH.
MRS. J. R. MORGAN.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON Y. W. A. WORK AND ENLISTMENT OF COLLEGE STUDENTS.

Realizing the ability and strength of our Young Woman's Auxiliary, and that upon it depends to a great extent the development and advancement of missions; and also realizing that its success must depend upon the loyalty and support of the best trained young women, we, the committee on Y. W. A. work and enlistment of college students recommend the following:

(1) That in every phase of the work we strive to do better than we have ever done before; to arouse a greater interest in missions generally, and to develop deeper spiritual lives which shall be founded on prayer.

MRS. E. B. MOORE.

MRS. GEORGE HALL.
MISS MARY BELLE TAYLOR.

Mrs. H. B. Moore presented the report on Personal Service, as follows:

PERSONAL SERVICE.

To make Christ known as Redeemer and King, from our own hearthstones to the uttermost parts of the earth, is a work in which prayer is the greatest factor.

There are two great needs, the need for personal salvation and the need for personal service, in the interests of society. These are embodied in the intention and designs of religion.

During the past year only about a fifth of our societies reported on Personal Work. Individual members of many other societies did a vast amount of work which was not reported, because done by individuals and not by the society as a whole.

Your committee urges that societies appoint Personal Service Committees and that they undertake some definite work, as a society, and that reports of this work be called for, by the President, at stated times. Also that an accurate record of such work be kept and used in filling out the yearly questionaire. We also urge the use of Personal Service Manual, Home Maker and other literature suited to this work.

May God guide you, and may His richest blessings attend your every effort.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. J. RODDICK.
MRS. B. O. HAMRICK.

REPORT ON OBITUARIES.

No day so bright and fair that not a cloud is visible. No picture perfect and beautiful without a shadow. No season so happy and joyous that no one has a heartache.

During this annual session of the W. M. U. we must pause to pay a loving tribute to the dear souls whom the Lord in his mysterious way has called home, no more to meet and mingle with friends and loved ones on this beautiful earth. Death, we call it, but we should feel it is moving into a larger and brighter sphere, where there is no night, no sorrow, but a loving Saviour to welcome them into eternal joy and bliss.

The beloved sisters, whose names we wish to chronicle were among our most loyal and consecrated workers. They lived beautiful lives and died rejoicing in the Christian hope. Our loss is great, Heaven's gain, greater.

The President appointed the above a Standing Committee on Obituaries.

The report of Committee on Jubilate Plans was offered by Mrs. F. D. Lethco, and adopted.

REPORT ON JUBILATE PLANS.

With a feeling of gratitude and deep thankfulness that during the past year Jubilate celebrations have been held in a number of the larger churches and great enthusiasm and generous gifts have resulted. We yet earnestly desire that the observance of the celebrations continue that all the societies may realize the value of the inspiration and also the educational advantage.

We feel hopeful that the entire sum of our aim will be reached. But we wish to emphasize the responsibility that rests upon the Vice Presidents for the success of this work, and make a plea that the pastors co-operate with them in bringing this matter before the churches. We therefore recommend:

1. That a special Jubilate Committee be appointed in each Association to visit and present the work in each church.

2. That they recommend a special object being taken, both for the Judson Centennial and the Home Mission Church Building Loan Funds, to which their contributions shall be devoted.

3. That the Judson Centennial campaign for the entire church be combined, if practical, with the Jubilate meetings.

4. In holding the Jubilate Meetings, we urge that the churches will stress the offerings, and make this the climax of the meeting.

5. In order to become better informed and thoroughly interested that the Mission Study Classes use "Ann of Ava" in addition to "In Royal Service."

(1) That every W. M. S. endeavor to organize and maintain a Royal Ambassador Chapter in her church.

(2) That we try to enlist every boy within the age limit of twelve to sixteen years, that they may be trained and educated in the Baptist doctrines, in mission study, and in systematic giving.

(3) That we adopt the recommendations and Standard of Excellence of the Executive Committee relating to the Royal Ambassador Work.

That we take as our aim a 10 per cent increase in gifts.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. PRESTON S. VANN,

Mrs. J. A. Boldin offered the following report of Committee on State, Home, and Foreign Missions:

REPORT ON STATE, HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS.

With thanksgiving to our Heavenly Father, we acknowledge His many blessings upon our State, Home and Foreign Mission work during the past year. As we realize the ever-increasing responsibility and importance of this work, may we be aroused to larger endeavor, and to more frequent and earnest prayer for even greater blessings during the coming year. We recommend:

(1) The adoption of the following recommendations of the State Mission Board:

"(1) That the sum of $7,500 be used next year for church building purposes, the same to be given to the points which, in the judgment of the Executive Committee, are in greatest need.

(2) That the Wake Forest Church be made the special object of the Young Woman's Auxiliaries and the Sunbeams for next year, each giving $500 to this church, and that $500 of the money appropriated by the Woman's Missionary Societies be appropriated to the Wake Forest Church. In this way all these several organizations can concentrate upon a church which belongs to the whole State, and to the erection of which the Baptist State Convention is committed.

(3) That in Mission Study, State Missions shall have a place, using the book, on State Mission work, which is to be prepared by Secretary Livingston Johnston for use in our denominational schools, and which will also be adapted to the use of Mission Study Classes."

(2) That in each society a literature campaign be conducted, endeavoring to place our mission journals, tracts, leaflets, and books in as many homes as possible.

(3) The continued observance of the special seasons of prayer and the special offerings for State, Home, and Foreign Missions.

(4) That the societies accept and make every possible effort to raise, through their Jubilate offerings, their apportioned part of the million dollar church building fund, and the Judson Centennial Fund. This being over and above their regular apportionments.

The report of the Literature Committee was presented by Miss Liddell, Charlotte, and received.

REPORT ON LITERATURE.

St. Paul says, "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved."

How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed and how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? and how shall they preach except they be sent?

Will it be presumptuous to add, How shall we send unless we are interested in the needs of the field, and how shall we be interested unless we know, and how shall we know unless we are informed, and how shall we be informed? We answer—through our missionary magazines, and through our mission study. Therefore we, the Literature Committee, recommend:

1. That each society emphasize the importance of our missionary periodicals and State paper.

2. That each society have a literature committee to secure subscriptions to our Mission Field, The Home Field, The Foreign Mission Journal, and The Biblical Recorder.

3. That not only the taking but the reading of these papers be urged.

4. That mission study be made more and more a great part of the year's work.

PROCEEDINGS

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

OF NORTH CAROLINA

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL SESSION

New Bern, N. C., March 23, 1915.

The Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention, assembled in its twenty-fifth annual session in the First Baptist Church of New Bern.

Rev. L. B. Padgett, pastor of the First Baptist church, presided at the opening session on Tuesday evening, with Rev. J. H. N. Summerell, of the Presbyterian church, leading in the devotional exercises.

At 8:10 p. m. the congregation joined in singing "Coronation."

Prayer was offered by Rev. R. W. Thiot.

Scripture reading, 46th Psalm, Rev. J. H. N. Summerell.

Special music by the choir.

The annual sermon was preached by Rev. J. Clyde Turner, of Greensboro, from the text in 1 Cor. 3:9, "We are fellow-workers with God."

Benediction pronounced by Rev. E. H. McWhorter.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The Union convened for business at 9:45 with Mrs. F. D. Lethco, First Vice-President, presiding.

After singing "The Morning Light is Breaking," Mrs. C. W. Blanchard led in the opening devotions, reading the 91st Psalm.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. M. E. Trueblood.

The Union then went into organization, the Chair appointing the following Committee on Enrollment: Mrs. P. S. Vann, Miss Donnie Ward, Mrs. S. E. Koonce.

Pending the report of this committee, a gracious welcome was extended the body by Mrs. Charles H. Hall on behalf of the Baptists of New Bern, and by Mrs. Whit Gaskins for other denominations.

Mrs. J. F. Brooks, Hendersonville, responded on behalf of the Union.

The Chair voiced the deep sorrow which filled every heart as she spoke of the illness of the beloved President, Miss Fannie E. S. Heck.

Miss Heck's message to the Union was read by Miss Barrus:

TO THE NORTH CAROLINA UNION.

My Sisters, Dearly Beloved and Longed for:—By a thousand signs which I cannot doubt you have shown that you love me. These tokens have reached over the twenty-eight years since the Central Committee was appointed, growing with the years, and in no year so great and so frequent as the last. Looking back over the long period since our united service began, my association with you, our mutual affection and our joyful triumph in a cause dear to all our hearts, stand out among the chief joys of my life.

As is known to you, I have been ill in a hospital in another State for eight months. Here your messages of love and your prayers have followed me, soothing and brightening my day and finding grateful memory in my heart.

Now comes our Annual Gathering. This is the third time since our first annual session twenty-five years ago that I have not been with you and presided over your deliberations.

Hard as it is for my pen to form the words, grieved as I know your hearts will be, I can never hope to be with you again.

But, beloved, I do not write this to cause you tears.

Let us rather rejoice and offer thanks for the years of our loving association, and dream together once more of your future, which today is in my prayers.

Looking back, who of you would, for any price, erase from your memory those frequent mountain-tops of praise, when, the past year having been filled with service, we laid our gift on the altar and

"Heaven came down
Our souls to greet,
And glory crowned
The mercy seat."

I can see your faces now shining with tears of joy, as I have seen them often in the past. I can hear your voices ring as I have heard them ring with praise until they seemed to mingle with an invisible Choir. I can feel your hand-clasp as of old, warm with our love to our Master. These have been the indissoluble bonds of our Union.

Since this is so, I do not fear to leave you. I can dream of your future with a trusting heart.

Changes will come: new faces take the place of old; new and broader plans succeed those of today; but our beloved Union is safe in our Master's care.

See to it, only, that you listen to His voice and follow only where Christ leads:

Be gentle in your personal lives, faithful and shining.

Be joyful, knowing His purposes are good, not evil, to His children.

Be prayerful in your planning.

Be patient and persistent in your fulfillment.

Endeavor to see the needs of the world from God's standpoint.

Plan not for the year, but for the years.

Think long thoughts.

Strive for the conversion of those around you as faithfully as for the heathen.

Train the children for world-wide service.

Lead the young women gently in places of joyous responsibility.

Bring all your powers into the best service of the best King.

Thus shall your work abide and be abundantly blessed of God to your own joy and the joy of the world.

In the belief that you will continue to adorn the doctrine of service, I bid you, dear friends, Farewell.

The God whom we love and serve will keep His own in love and peace and finally through His great love wherewith He hath loved us bring us all rejoicing into His presence above. Most earnestly I pray—God be with you till we meet again!

FANNIE E. S. HECK.

Hygeia Hospital, Richmond, Va., March 20, 1915.

At the close of the reading Miss Barrus presented a beautiful bouquet of white roses, the gift of Miss Heck to the Union.

Mrs. W. H. Woodall led in a special prayer for Miss Heck.

It was moved and carried that night letters be sent to the President, reporting the work of each day. This matter was referred to the Committee on Messages and Greetings, Mrs. W. H. Woodall, Chairman.

Mrs. W. N. Jones, Treasurer, presented her annual report, giving the totals by Associations:

Following her report Mrs. Jones gave a "Story of Growth," tracing the progress of the Union through the twenty-eight years since its organization.

It was moved by Mrs. W. H. Reddish that the Union extend a vote of thanks to Mrs. Jones for her service as Treasurer. Amendments were offered requesting the "Story of Growth" for publication in the Biblical Recorder and in tract form. Amendments carried, and a vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Jones.

Miss Blanche Barrus, Corresponding Secretary, presented her report as follows:

ANNUAL REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

Again the close of another year brings to us the joyful realization of aims reached, a large number of new workers enlisted, and a steady and encouraging growth in many departments of our work. Despite the undercurrent of sadness that has been felt throughout the State, on account of the illness of our beloved leader, there has been no flagging of effort or enthusiasm on the part of the workers, and it is a beautiful tribute to her long labor of love that our women have so faithfully endeavored to follow the ideals she has lived and taught.

AIMS REACHED.

Enlistment.—As usual, an encouraging number of new workers have been enlisted, and we have overreached our aim in number of new organizations. Eighty-six new Sunbeam Bands, nine Royal Ambassador Chapters, forty-three Young Women's Auxiliaries and 121 Woman's Missionary Societies have been added to our numbers, making our present enrollment of active societies 1,162. Ninety more societies have reported to the Treasurer than last year, and a large number have made a ten per cent increase in gifts.

Gifts.—The fact that we have overreached our financial aims is indeed cause for deep gratitude and rejoicing. With so many societies contributing to the Judson Centennial Fund we could hardly hope to make a large increase in regular gifts. But there has been a considerable advance over last year's contributions to Home, State and Foreign Missions, which, together with gifts to the Judson Centennial, puts us far beyond our aims. We are especially rejoiced that we have exceeded our apportionment for the Training School. A large number of societies contributed generously to this object during the summer quarter, while two scholarships have been given by the Piedmont and West Chowan Associations.

ASSOCIATIONAL AND FIELD WORK.

Associations.—The work of the Associations has been, for the most part, encouraging, and our Vice-Presidents have continued their faithful efforts to bring the societies up to a higher degree of efficiency. Eighteen Associations have exceeded their apportionment, and twenty-six have made a ten per cent increase in gifts. Twelve new Vice-Presidents have been appointed, as follows: In the Bladen, Mrs. H. C. Bridger, Bladenboro; in the Brunswick, Mrs. I. D. Harrelson, of Winnabow; in the Carolina, Mrs. J. F. Brooks, Hendersonville; in the Cumberland, Miss Iula Olive, Fayetteville; in the Central, Mrs. J. W. Whitfield, Creedmoor; in the Haywood, Mrs. J. R. Morgan, Waynesville; in the Raleigh, Mrs. E. E. Wilson, New Hill; in the Roanoke, Mrs. W. E. Daniel, Weldon; in the South Fork, Mrs. H. B. Moore, Gastonia; in the South Yadkin, Mrs. C. S. Cashwell, Statesville; in the West Chowan, Miss Willie Lambertson, Rich Square; in the Wilmington, Miss Florence Whitney, of Wilmington. In the death of Mrs. J. W. Garvey, of the Brushy Mountain, we have suffered the loss of one of our most valuable and consecrated Vice-Presidents. She was not only the leading spirit in the W. M. U. work of her own Association, but her zeal and influence extended to a number of adjoining Associations, where organizations were begun, for the first time, through her interest and help.

Only twenty-eight Vice-Presidents' reports reached me in time to be included in this report. These show 4,322 miles traveled in the interest of missions and 4,862 letters written. The Tar River leads in number of new societies, while the Caldwell, Central, Eastern, South Fork, Little River and West Chowan also deserve "honorable mention." From the Caldwell, one of our newest Associations, in a difficult mountain territory, the Vice-President reports over six hundred miles traveled and twice the number of societies reporting last year. This is but one of many instances where real sacrifice and heroic effort are being made in order to inform and train our women in mission endeavor.

Field Work.—Feeling the need for more extensive field work, the Central Committee decided to employ Misses Minnie Middleton and Miriam Schell, two of our North Carolina girls from the Training School, to assist the officers during the summer in visiting associational meetings, organizing societies, and doing general field work. Twelve Associations were visited by them: the Ashe, Three Forks, Caldwell and Brushy Mountain by Miss Schell, and the Beulah, Piedmont, Eastern, Roanoke, Flat River, Wilmington by Miss Middleton. From all points visited by these young women have come expressions of appreciation of their good work and a deepened interest and enthusiasm in the Training School. For their services during the vacation quarter we are deeply indebted to the State Board, who generously agreed to bear the expense of traveling and salary. In addition to these visits thirteen associational meetings have been visited by the officers; four by the Y. W. A. Secretary; four by the Sunbeam Leader; five by the Treasurer, and six by the Corresponding Secretary. During the illness of the Secretary, Mrs. C. E. Mason, of Charlotte, kindly filled an engagement with the W. M. U. of the Montgomery and assisted in the re-organization of the Associational Union. In all, twenty-three Associations have been reached by some representative of the Central Committee.

Questionnaire Information.—Of the 1,132 questionnaires mailed to the societies in January only 365 were returned. From the information thus furnished we are encouraged to note 1,500 new members enrolled, 216 societies engaged in Personal Service, 45 mission libraries, 125 Mission Study classes, 450 tithers, 500 societies observing the special seasons of prayer, 1,600 subscribers to Royal Service, and 3,000 to the Home Field and Foreign Mission Journal.

Standard of Excellence.—The number of societies attaining distinction in the Standard of Excellence is not so gratifying, though there has been a slight gain over last year. Three W. M. S. and four Y. W. A.'s have made every point, thus attaining the Honor Roll distinction; 55 made Class A; 72 Class B, and 70 Class C.

Office Report.—The following statistical report gives some idea of the office work for the year. In addition to the regular quarterly letters and literature, a special letter written by Mrs. H. C. Moore, in the interest of the Training School, was mailed to the societies during the summer quarter. Special leaflets on Sunbeam and Y. W. A. work have been prepared by Miss Briggs and Mrs. Bunn. The report of office work is as follows:

FACING THE NEW YEAR.

Our Needs.—In reviewing the foregoing report, I am deeply impressed that there are three points that should engage our most conscientious and prayerful effort as we face the new year. They are neither new nor difficult, but so often as we fail to meet them so often do they need repetition and emphasis.

Definite Aims.—The first is that every society shall put before it definite aims for the new year. To me it seems a very significant and deplorable fact that of the 365 societies returning the questionnaires 144 made no attempt to answer the Standard of Excellence points. This means that nearly half of our societies are working in more or less haphazard fashion, without any definite plans for increasing their efficiency. Let us take a leaf from the business man's book this year and take stock of ourselves, as it were; study our aims and methods, and endeavor to make the weak places in our work stepping-stones for greater achievement.

Accurate Records.—Closely allied with the plans for greater efficiency is the importance of securing accurate statistics about our work. I would most earnestly urge that the secretary of every society keep a careful record of her society work each month, so as to report fully and accurately at the close of the year. Without such records our report to our General Union and to the various boards must ever be incomplete.

Strengthening the Weaker Societies.—But the one need which overshadows all others just at this time is that of giving our fuller support to the work of our Junior societies, and to the new or weaker societies within reach of our help. This has been one of the weakest points in our work, and therefore offers the largest possibilities for advancement. Did you wonder a little while ago that out of all our strong Woman's Missionary Societies only three are on the Honor Roll? I will tell you the reason, if you have not already guessed it, it's the tenth point on the Standard, "organizing or fostering a new society in a neighboring church, or for the young people of the local church." At our last annual session we were happy to report 206 new societies. During the past year 68 of these, 40 of them Junior societies, have failed to report—dropped out of the ranks because no one felt it her duty to assume the responsibility of leadership. O women of our Missionary Societies, think not your duty is done while the young people of our churches need the training and encouragement that you alone can give. "He who helps a child helps humanity with a distinctness that no other help rendered any other human being can give." The Sunbeams and Y. W. A.'s of today must be our missionaries tomorrow. Shall we, by our lack of vision, our lack of whole-hearted consecration, prevent God's plan for them in the salvation of the world? Rather, let each one of us dedicate herself anew to this sacred duty of winning and training the youth of our churches in the fuller joy of His service.

Looking Ahead.—Our work has been signally blessed during the year just closing. Though we have failed to measure up to our full duty and responsibility, the golden door of opportunity is still open before us. Surely it is the time of all times for the Baptist women of North Carolina to unite with quickened loyalty and deepend consecration to make the work of the new year a gift of love worthy of our King.

Respectfully submitted,

BLANCHE BARRUS,
Corresponding Secretary.

On motion of Mrs. C. J. Thompson, it was voted to send a wire of greeting immediately to Miss Heck. Mrs. W. H. Woodall and Mrs. J. D. Harte were instructed to prepare the message.

Miss Elizabeth N. Briggs, Band Superintendent, presented her report:

REPORT OF BAND AND ROYAL AMBASSADOR SUPERINTENDENT.

If service were measured by success there would often be room for discouragement in our work. But we believe with the great missionary who, in the midst of apparent failure exclaimed, "The prospects are as bright as the promise of God."

We chose aims for our Sunbeams and Royal Ambassadors that seemed reasonable for this year's efforts. Causes beyond our explaining have lessened the gifts of last year instead of increasing them as we had hoped. Some of our strongest Bands have graduated their larger members into other mission societies. Others have worked under unusual conditions that easily explain their seeming falling off in gifts.

The amount contributed this year by the Sunbeams is $3,824.66; by the Royal Ambassadors, $388.08. We have the pleasure of reporting 86 new Sunbeam Bands and 9 new Royal Ambassador Chapters. Our greatest encouragement is in the splendid Honor Roll of Bands and Chapters. This year there were 1,111 Bands and 5 Chapters that reported every quarter. During the year reports came from 349 Bands and 44 Chapters

Several years ago when our Bands were few in number the average gift per Band rose to $15, now that we are strong in number our average has dropped to $10. If each Band would endeavor to push a little the old average could be regained and our gifts made to reach beyond the $5,000 point.

We have ten Bands this year giving $50 or more: Lumberton, $136; Asheboro Street, Greensboro, $90; Wilson, $88; Brown Memorial, Winston-Salem, $76; Hickory, $72; Charlotte, First Church, $71; Magnolia, $58; Winston-Salem, $53, Chowan, $50; Henderson, $49.99; R. A., Winston-Salem, $71.

Of the excellent work done by some of the Associations mention must be made. Seventeen Associations have made a ten per cent increase in Sunbeam gifts and ten in Royal Ambassador. The Robeson leads in contributing $451. The West Chowan has the largest number of Bands reporting, thirty-six appearing in the report of that Association. The Pilot Mountain has a star for every Band reporting this year, showing the regularity of the work done. Others might be commended if time permitted.

The regular mission objects were kept before the Bands and Chapters during the year a special leaflet for leaders being printed for help and suggestions in the work. A most attractive State Mission program was, by request, arranged by Mrs. I. P. Hedgepeth, of Lumberton.

It should be explained that the General Union at its last session decided to give up the home for missionaries' children at Greenville, S. C. Conditions on the mission fields are more favorable for the home life of missionaries and their children up to college age. Hence the decision of the Union to sell the home and convert the money from it into the Margaret Educational Fund to be used for the children of missionaries. The interest only of the fund will be used and money given to it will be added to the principal.

Looking to our Bands and Chapters for growing usefulness and increasing gifts to missions, we confidently expect to record the coming year as one of greater success.

ELIZABETH N. BRIGGS.

Mrs. Hight C. Moore, North Carolina member of the Board of Trustees of the Training School, presented the annual report as follows:

REPORT ON W. M. U. TRAINING SCHOOL OF LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

All has gone well with the Training School since its opening on September 30th. With the exception of January, when colds and minor ailments were prevalent, the health of the student body has been excellent.

The twenty students who were crowded out of the original home last year have been given comfortable quarters by the purchase of the adjoining residence. The furnishings of the living room, dining room and sitting room of the Margaret Home have been received by the Training School, the cost being about $60 for transportation, packing, etc.

December was a busy and happy month at the school. A beautiful entertainment was given at the Good Will Center, where 225 people were present. In many ways the girls were made happy at Christmas time. Dr. L. B. Warren, of Georgia, sent a check of $25 to provide a Christmas dinner for the Training School. Love bags containing gifts for each girl were received from Atlanta, Ga., Webb City, Mo., and Danville, Ky.

The current expenses of the school have been kept in their bounds notwithstanding the advances in cost of food.

Again the Sunday School Board has caused every friend of the Training School to rejoice at the generous and beneficent gift of $10,000 which was given by this Board to the school in January.

For the benefit of the wives of seminary students, the principal has begun a class in "Social Duties from a Christian Standpoint."

There are now sixty students in the boarding department and twenty-two day students. Three are from North Carolina this year. Two others had expected to go but were unable at the last to make arrangements. Eight of the Training School girls have recently applied to the Foreign Mission Board, and hope for an early appointment.

We are so glad to report that North Carolina's financial obligation to the school has been met. Since the crowded condition of the school last year necessitated the addition of a wing to the present building, the estimated cost being $75,000, North Carolina became responsible for $5,000 of this amount which is to be paid within three years. The response last year was hearty and generous, and we earnestly ask that you will do as well for the Training School during the summer quarter of this year.

MRS. HIGHT C. MOORE,
Trustee for North Carolina.

Following the adoption of the report, Mrs. B. V. Ferguson spoke on "The Training School and Its Course of Study as a Missionary Asset."

"What the Training School Means to Us" was discussed by Mrs. K. D. Stukenbrok.

In the absence of Mrs. J. W. Bunn, Y. W. A. Secretary, her report was read by Mrs. B. A. Hocutt and adopted.

ANNUAL REPORT Y. W. A. SECRETARY.

The work of the young women of our State is by no means the least in importance, though we have a less number of societies than either the Sunbeam or W. M. S. The training of the young women is really the most important, because they, so soon, must become the mothers of our Sunbeams and also the leaders in our Woman's Missionary Societies. This year has not been all that we had hoped, but it gives me great pleasure to present this report of the excellent work of our young women.

Not knowing the difficulty of organization one year ago as well as we do now, we, the Committee on Y. W. A. Work, took as our aim 50 new societies. To date we have had about this number, but only 43 came in by the last of February, which closed our year's work. There are now 182 societies enrolled on our mailing list; 40 of these will be dropped at the beginning of our new year because they have not reported a single quarter during the year. There were 49 societies that reported every quarter, and others that reported every quarter after they were organized. I wrote cards to every society that had not reported up to the third quarter but many did not respond.

Not having counted on a war during the year, we took $6,000 as our financial aim, which was practically a five per cent increase over the previous year. We failed to reach this aim, though our increase was about ten per cent, so we need to feel proud of that. Besides the funds reported to us, so many of our Y. W. A.'s are helping in the home towns and church, often paying big sums to buildings, etc.

It was my pleasure to visit four Associational Meetings and several individual societies. The quarterly letters and literature have been mailed promptly. Personal letters have been given special attention and postals were mailed to all delinquent societies.

In closing this report I want to urge that the women in their societies look after and urge on the work of the young women, and that they in turn feel responsible for the Girls' Auxiliaries. Let us try to have more real mission study in all our societies, and in everything keep the Standard of Excellence before us. We are needed in the fight. Let us face our duty with a determination of steel, and our forces shall soon be heading the ranks. It has given me great pleasure to work with you this year, and as I step out of this line and a stronger and better takes my place, I shall still be watching you and expecting the best from every band.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. W. BUNN,
Y. W. A. Leader.

The following letter from our North Carolina girls at the Training School was read by Miss Kelly:

Dear W. M. U. Women:—As you meet at New Bern in your annual meeting this week we want you to know that the hearts of your Training School girls, by some trick of mental telepathy, are there too, listening with great joy to the note of victory in the Treasurer's report, following with deep interest the lines of advance noted by our Secretary, eager to know how each society has served our Master. To some of you, perhaps, disappointments have come, but we know much faithful and loving service has been wrought into the finished work of the past year, and Christ has been honored by timid ones who for the first time perhaps had courage to publicly speak in His name.

It is a wonderful privilege you've given us, those of you who could not come, this opportunity of coming apart for a little while from other things to be trained for better service. As our dear professor, Dr. Dement, said when leaving the seminary and his students were presenting him with a loving cup, "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh"—so they say—"but sometimes out of the abundance of the heart the mouth can't speak." And so if we exhausted the Webster of great fame there still would be no word to really express what is in our hearts, a great big love for each of you, and always a prayer that somehow something of the joy you have made possible for us may find its way into your hearts and into the lives of women who know not our Christ.

We sorrow with you in the absence of the wonderful woman who has led us forward so long, and yet it is still true that she leads us, is it not, in consecration and beautiful unselfishness? And we know that God will direct the choosing of another, not to take her place, that indeed is impossible, but to make another place in your hearts. So will you be the richer for the leadership to two beautiful lives in the heart-life of the work.

Faithfully and loving yours,

PEARLE JOHNSON,
MIRIAM SCHELL,
MINNIE MIDDLETON.

RESOLUTIONS OF SUNBEAM AND ROYAL AMBASSADOR LEADERS—1915-16.

Believing that the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ holds a very definite command to teach and train for His service; and realizing that the success of children's mission work must depend upon the leaders, we the leaders of Mission Bands and Royal Ambassador Chapters, acknowledge our responsibility to Him for the children of our own churches and resolve and covenant together to strive for the following:

1. Consecration.—To consecrate ourselves anew to this important work for the Master, and to hold as our highest motive the conversion of the children under our care, our prayers, plans and programs being to this end.

2. Devotional.—To give ourselves to a deeper study of the Bible as preparation for better Bible teaching in the Bands. To pray more frequently that we may lead the children to pray.

3. Mission Sudy.—Knowing that we cannot teach what we do not know, we will read and study mission literature as a help to arranging programs. We will subscribe to Royal Service, and, if possible, to other mission publications, endeavoring also to put these in the homes of the children.

4. Mission Meetings.—We will try to hold our Band and Chapter meetings regularly, filling our programs with mission truths in forms best suited to attract and teach the children.

5. Personal Service.—We will look carefully for some kind of personal service for the children, to render to the unfortunate of our communities.

6. Special Occasions.—The special days for Home, State, and Foreign Missions, we will have our Bands observe with suitable programs.

7. Offerings.—It shall be our endeavor to train the children in tithing, having them bring an offering to each meeting. Special offerings shall be made on the Home, State, and Foreign Mission days. We will set an aim for our Band and keep it before them during the year.

8. Dollar Sunbeams and Royal Ambassadors.—The names of children contributing one dollar or more to missions shall be sent to the Band Superintendent to be printed in the Dollar Roll in the Recorder.

9. Honor Roll of Bands and Chapters.—We will try to have sent in our Band reports each quarter and thus be on the Gold Star list of the Honor Roll.

10. Standard of Excellence.—It shall be our effort to reach a high place in the Standard of Excellence.

11. Co-operation and Extension.—We will try to co-operate with the Primary Sunday School teachers in mission work, also with other Mission Band leaders. We will offer help to weak Bands or to the organization of new Bands, taking part in Sunbeam and Royal Ambassador rallies whenever possible.

Discussed by Mrs. Woodall and adopted.

Recommendations of the Central Committee for the year 1915-16 were read by Miss Barrus. An additional clause, providing for Promotion Day, was proposed by Mrs. Fred Battle. Mrs. Woodall moved that this clause be incorporated in the recommendations, and it was so ordered.

Recommendations adopted.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION FOR THE YEAR 1915-1916.

With a deep sense or gratitude for the many blessings that God has so abundantly given to the work of our Woman's Missionary Union, and with an earnest desire for more faithful and efficient service, we recommend the following plan of work for the ensuing year:

I. Watchword. That our watchword be, "For ye serve the Lord Christ."

II. Points of Emphasis. That we endeavor to put the spiritual emphasis first in all our plans, that systematic Bible study and united prayer shall be an ever increasing feature of our work, and that training the younger members of our churches in mission thought and interest shall engage our best efforts.

III. Special Offerings. That we urge each Society to observe the Christmas Offering and the Week of Prayer for World-Wide Missions the first week in January, the Week of Prayer and the Thank Offering for Home Missions the second week in April, and State Mission Day in September.

IV. Organization. That we endeavor to organize during the coming year one-tenth the present number of Woman's Missionary Societies; one-fourth the number of Young Woman's Auxiliaries, and one-fifth the number of Sunbeams and Royal Ambassadors.

V. Training School. That we undertake to raise for the Woman's Missionary Union Training School at Louisville, Ky., the sum of $2,500.00. This amount to be appropriated as follows: To current expenses, $335.00. To three scholarships, at $175 each, $525.00. To enlargement fund, $1,650.00, and that the Training School be our special object during the summer quarter, ending August 31st.

IV. Personal Service. That we continue to urge each Society to study the spiritual and physical needs of its own community, and to strive to meet these needs by personal service. To this end we recommend that a Personal Service Committee be appointed, who shall have charge of this work under the direction of the Society, and who shall send at the close of each year a statement of the work done to the Chairman of the Personal Service Committee of the Central Committee on a special form sent them for this purpose. These reports to be tabulated by said Committee, and a report made to the Annual Meeting and to the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention. No money spent on local work will be included in the reports of the Treasurer of the Union.

VII. Literature. That each Society appoint a Literature Committee who shall endeavor to place one of our mission magazines and a Calendar of Prayer in each home represented in the Society. That Royal Service be used by all societies for program helps, and the Foreign Mission Journal and the Home Field for general mission information, and that we endeavor to increase the circulation of the Biblical Recorder among our membership.

VIII. Mission Study Classes. That Mission Study Classes and Reading Circles be organized in each Society for the better training of our young people. Suggestions as to suitable books for this purpose, and methods of conducting classes will be furnished by the Literature Committee, on application to the mission rooms.

IX. Special Meetings. That we would emphasize the importance of every Society sending a representative to their Associational Meetings, and to the Annual Meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union; and that we endeavor to have our full representation at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention.

X. Associational Meetings. That we recommend the holding of the Associational Meeting at a separate time and place from the General Association wherever this is practicable.

XI. Baptist Seaside Chautauqua. That we accept the invitation of the Committee of the Baptist Seaside Chautauqua to conduct a department of Woman's Missionary Union work for a period of one hour each day for five days at the meeting to be held at Wrightsville Beach, June 21.

XII. Contributions and Reports. That each Society make quarterly reports to the Treasurer of the Union, the contributions for each quarter being given to the objects set forth by the Central Committee for that quarter, each Society seeking to make at least a ten per cent increase over their last year's gifts. Contributions to be paid to the Church Treasurer or to the Treasurer of the Baptist State Convention and reports of all contributions to be sent to the Treasurer of the Woman's Missionary Union.

XIII. That all members of Missionary Societies make every contribution to missions through their Missionary Societies; that wherever the budget or duplex envelope plan is used the Society arrange with the church to credit all the mission contributions of the members of the Society to their Society.

XIV. That all Societies that have not reported for one year be dropped from our mailing list; and in case a Vice-President fails to report for a year the Central Committee shall consider the office vacant.

XV. Believing that our Young Woman's Auxiliaries will do their best work when the members are of comparatively uniform age and interests, we would recommend:

1. That the Auxiliaries observe Promotion Day.

2. That those societies that have a large per cent of mature women in their membership shall call themselves Woman's Missionary Societies and not Young Woman's Auxiliaries.

XVI. Apportionment. That the money aim of each Association as adopted at the annual session of the State Union be divided by each Vice-President among the Societies of her Association, these aims being put before the Societies not later than six weeks after the annual session on apportionment cards provided by the Central Committee.

XVII. Expense Fund. That each Society contribute ten cents per member during the month of May for the Expense Fund of the Central Committee—and that at the Associational meeting the sum of five cents per member be given as an Associational Progress Fund to be used by the Vice-President in carrying on the work in their respective Associations.

XVIII. That we adopt the following standard of excellence for Woman's Societies and Young Woman's Auxiliaries.

Standard of Excellence.

1. At least twelve regular meetings a year with a devotional exercise and a definite missionary program.

2. An increase in membership during the year of at least ten per cent of the number enrolled at the beginning of the year until all eligible members are enlisted.

3. An increase of gifts to missions of not less than ten per cent of the preceding year's contributions to similar objects.

4. Regular reports to State Officers each quarter of the year.

5. One of the denominational magazines or a Calendar of Prayer, subscribed for in at least half of the homes represented in the Missionary Society, the ultimate aim, being one in every home.

6. Observance of the special seasons of prayer for State, Home, and Foreign Missions.

7. At least one Mission Study Class during the year.

8. An average attendance at regular meetings of a number equal to one-half of the membership.

9. Some definite, organized Personal Service rendered regularly to those of your own community in spiritual or physical need.

10. Organization and fostering of a Missionary Society in a neighboring church, or for the younger people of the local church.

XIX. That our financial aim for the year be $45,000.00 to be divided as follows:

To Foreign Missions	$18,000.00
To Home Missions	12,800.00
To State Missions	11,000.00

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON REVISION OF CONSTITUTION.

After careful reading of the Constitution of the Woman's Missionary Union, your committee begs to recommend:

1. That the phrase "a Traveling Organizer" be eliminated from Article III.

2. That Amendment 8, entitled "General Organizer," shall also be eliminated.

Report adopted.

Mrs. Fred Battle offered the report of Committee on Plans of Work:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PLANS OF WORK.

We beg to recommend:

1. That the spirituality of the individual members be increased, and as a means to this end that much stress be laid upon daily reading of the Bible and prayer. That, if possible, we have a definite time for prayer, that through our united prayers for definite objects God may grant unto us the blessings we ask.

2. That as all are in need of more information as to our work, a special effort be made to have a successful Mission Study Class in each organization; that each society make a definite study of the Bible, alternating this with their Mission Study work.

3. That the woman's page in the Biblical Recorder be made more and more a medium of interchange of practical suggestions. To this end each Vice-President, being in close touch with the problems confronting the societies in her Association, is asked to bring these, together with any helpful suggestion she may find, before the women, by sending a regular monthly letter to the Recorder.

4. We recommend that in those societies who do not observe Promotion Day that each woman as she marries shall go into the W. M. S., and that the societies now having a large percentage of married women or mature women, report as W. M. S. and not as Y. W. A.'s.

5. Realizing that the women who attend the session of the W. M. U. are consecrated women, and are met together for the advancement of the Lord's work, we therefore recommend that the full time be given to the sessions of the work and all entertainment be eliminated that conflicts therewith.

6. As so many delegates find it impossible to remain during the whole session we recommend a time be set apart on the program for the meeting of committees, and that these reports, election of officers and all important business be transacted the second day of the meeting, leaving the addresses and those things that are foreign to the practical work for the last day.

7. That any changes in the plans of work should be fully discussed with the Vice-Presidents, either by correspondence or a call to Raleigh.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. F. G. BATTLE.
MRS. J. T. JOYNER.
MRS. WM. BOETTCHER.

Report adopted.

The report on Training School was presented by Miss Kelly and adopted after brief discussion.

REPORT ON TRAINING SCHOOL.

Whereas, the demand for more efficient training in our mission work, both at home and abroad, now has become so great, and as the burden of the crisis of our work rests so heavily upon our hearts; desiring also that we realize more and more the need of information concerning our Training School, and realizing our utter dependence upon our Heavenly Father, we recommend:

1. That we thoroughly and widely distribute all literature concerning the Training School and in every way possible lay before our young women the wonderful opportunities for preparation for service; and that the mothers be made to feel the importance of this course of training for their daughters.

2. That we make an earnest plea in every Association for the liberal support of this great work; especially do we desire to lay it upon the hearts of our Y. W. A.'s that we also emphasize the use of the envelopes especially prepared for this object.

3. That we set as our aim this year the sum of $2,500 to be distributed as follows: To current expenses, $335; to three scholarships at $175 each, $525; to enlargement fund, $1,650; and that the Central Committee decide to whom the scholarships are to be given. Also that the Training School be our special object during the summer quarter ending August 31st.

4. That all funds collected for this school be forwarded promptly to Mrs. W. N. Jones, our Treasurer, who will see that the funds reach their proper destination.

5. That we ever bring this school in earnest prayer to our Father, praying His blessings and guidance; that we make it an object of special study, and that we prayerfully, earnestly, and sympathetically co-operate with the principal, Mrs. McClure, as she strives to make this institution a vital force in our denominational work.

Mrs. Lanneau presented the report on obituaries, which was adopted by a rising vote.

REPORT OF OBITUARY COMMITTEE.

As a Union we are called upon each year to give up some of our faithful members. As the ranks are broken we can but bow in humble submission to the will of God; express appreciation of their work and life, and try as best we may to emulate their example in the service of our Lord and Master.

The Union has sustained in the death of Mrs. J. W. Garvey, Vice-President of the Brushy Mountain Association, a great loss. Her devotion to the general work and her love for the mountain women, among whom she lived, caused her to rise far above the commonplace things of life and consecrate her life to beautiful and joyous service.

Among those whom God has called to their heavenly reward are the following workers:

Mrs. L. E. M. Freeman, member of the Central Committee, Raleigh; Mrs. A. R. Tucker, Raleigh; Mrs. Henry Allen, Mrs. Julia Battle, Winton W. M. S.; Miss Fensy Todd, Holly Grove W. M. RESOLUTIONS.

With profound and heartfelt gratitude your committee, voicing the sentiments of the Woman's Missionary Union, desires to express thanks for new vision, mountain-top experiences and the dignified and exalted privilege of preparing to be nobler and better fellow-workers with God. The true friendship and sweet Christian fellowship will not only be pleasant memories but they have furnished incentives for new and nobler endeavor. Be it resolved:

1. That most heartily do we thank the people of New Bern for their royal welcome and our hostesses of various denominations for their unbounded hospitality. Their thoughtfulness and unselfishness have made our stay not only a joyous and pleasant memory but will ever be cherished as a foretaste of future happiness.

2. We desire to tender our thanks to the pastor of the First Church, L. B. Padgett, and W. R. Thiot, pastor of the Tabernacle, and other pastors for their loyal and hearty co-operation and untiring assistance.

3. We appreciate the fine spirit of welcome and thank Mrs. J. B. Blades and her committee on hospitality, the young ladies who have served so efficiently as ushers, and in the post office and literature department; the choir and organist who gave us such delightful music.

4. We wish, too, to thank the Chamber of Commerce, citizens of New Bern, Mr. Sloan and Mr. Miller for means of transportation, writing material, rest rooms, boat ride and all those who have in so many ways contributed to our comfort and happiness.

5. We would not forget the newspapers, which have given such accurate and splendid reports, and the artistic and lovely programs furnished by the two churches.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the local papers.

We recommend:

1. A ten per cent increase to the State, Home and Foreign Mission Boards.

REPORT ON PERSONAL SERVICE.

Remembering our Master's injunction to love our neighbor as ourselves, and bearing in mind that our neighbor is the one who needs us, we, the Personal Service Committee, urge:

1. That each Society investigate the needs in their own community and have a special committee to foster the work in their own Society and church according to the plans set forth by the Central Committee. Information can be had of Mrs. C. E. Maddry, of Raleigh, chairman of this committee.

2. That each W. M. S. not only engage in this work themselves but foster the work in the other societies of the church.

3. Especially would we urge that an accurate account be kept and reported on the questionnaire.

May God's blessings be upon this work.

MRS. J. A. SMITH.
MRS. C. S. CASHWELL.
MRS. T. B. DAVIS.

Mrs. T. W. Chambliss presented the following report on literature, and it was received:

REPORT ON LITERATURE.

The wisest man of all ages has told us to get wisdom, instruction, and understanding; for knowledge increaseth strength, and this knowledge and strength is necessary to make a success of the work our Master has left us to do. As we learn the needs of the field mostly through the reading of our missionary literature, we, your committee, recommend:

1. That each society emphasize the importance of our missionary periodicals and State paper.

2. That each society have a literature committee to secure subscriptions to Royal Service, the Foreign Mission Journal, the Home Field, and the Biblical Recorder.

3. That we urge our women not only to subscribe for these periodicals but to give them a careful reading.

4. That we put a greater emphasis on Mission Study and urge each society to establish a mission library.

The report on Y. W. A. work and Enlistment of College Students was read by Miss Nellie Pool, Clayton.

Miss Kelly offered clause 21 as an amendment. It was adopted, after which the report as a whole was received.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON Y. W. A. WORK AND ENLISTMENT OF COLLEGE STUDENTS.

Realizing the ability and strength of our Y. W. A.'s, and that upon them depends to a great extent the development and advancement of missions; and also realizing that its success must depend upon the loyalty and support of the best trained young women, we, the Committee on Y. W. A. Work and Enlistment of College Students, recommend the following:

1. That in every phase of the work we strive to do better than we have ever done before; to arouse a greater interest in missions generally, and to develop deeper spiritual lives which shall be founded on prayer.

2. That we use the Calendar of Prayer.

3. That we use the mission journals, both Home and Foreign, also Royal Service, and read as much of the leaflet literature as possible.

4. That each Auxiliary during the year have at least one Mission Study Class (and this is very important and should be stressed in all societies).

5. That we use the Standard of Excellence as an ideal of attainment.

6. That each society foster or organize other societies.

7. That special effort be made to observe Home, State, and Foreign Mission Days, with offerings for each taken at the respective times.

8. That we enlist every business girl in the churches where there are societies.

9. That we strive to create the spirit of Personal Service in the heart of every member of every society.

10. That we organize fifty new societies.

11. That we observe Promotion Day.

12. That we attend the Missionary Institutes, Associational Meetings, and send a representative to the Annual State W. M. U. and the Missionary Conference at Blue Ridge, and to the Seaside Chautauqua.

13. That each Y. W. A. leader stress the importance of sending quarterly reports regularly and promptly, and urge regular and systematic giving.

14. That the offices of Y. W. A. Leader and College Correspondent be combined.

15. That Y. W. A.'s become responsible for organizing Girls' Auxiliaries. Also co-operate with the Woman's Missionary Societies in fostering Children's Societies.

16. Try to enlist full co-operation of college girls; urge discussions by all members of the Society.

17. That the Y. W. C. A.'s or other organizations of young women in our schools and colleges give one of their regular religious meetings each year to the discussion of State, Home, and Foreign Mission work, and give a portion of their contributions to these three objects through our W. M. Union.

18. That the students from the schools and colleges belong to some Y. W. A. during their vacation and help in organizing new societies and stimulating growth in old ones.

19. That the Y. W. A.'s be given an hour of open conference at the annual W. M. U. meetings.

20. That the total Y. W. A. aim for 1915-1916 be $6,500, apportioned on a basis of ten per cent increase over each object for last year.

21. That at definite times we bring before our Y. W. A. and college students the great and urgent needs of the world and the call of God to them to give their lives to Him for special service in redeeming the world; and should they make a decision, we urge them to enter the Training School to prepare themselves to do their best work.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON NOMINATIONS.

We, the undersigned members of the Nominating Committee, after earnest, prayerful consideration, do respectfully submit to the body the following:

While we realize that our beloved President can never again assume the burden of office, we do not feel that we could recognize another as our leader while her life is yet spared, and we are unanimous in the belief that we are voicing the wish of the entire body when we nominate as President of the Woman's Missionary Union Miss Fannie E. S. Heck.

Realizing also that the duties and responsibilities of office must fall heavily on the next officer in succession, whom should we choose but the one who for twenty-eight years has stood by her side, has worked shoulder to shoulder with her; has shared with her alike the sting of disappointment and the joy of success. We nominate for First Vice-President and Treasurer Mrs. W. N. Jones.

It has been the custom to change the Vice-Presidents each year in order that all parts of the State may be represented, yet we do not feel that we can give up Mrs. Lethco, and we feel under obligations to her for the beautiful manner in which she has presided over this meeting. We nominate her for Second Vice-President.

The committee wishes also to acknowledge receipt of a letter from Miss Heck and to express its appreciation of the thoughtful greeting and beautiful words of loving interest, and we pray that each day may bring new happiness to her and when the evening shadows begin to lengthen may He who doeth all things well be near to soothe and comfort her.
